City Hall Recovery Continues After June Fire and Water Damage

Temporary Customer Service Center Open at City Hall

Chino Hills City Hall is undergoing a major remediation and recovery effort following a June fire that caused significant water damage. While full restoration is expected to take several months, the City is committed to delivering essential services to our community without interruption and is offering in-person services through a temporary Customer Service Center located in the main lobby and Council Chambers. This setup ensures continued service to the public in a safe and efficient manner.

Immediately following the incident, City Hall staff quickly mobilized to pack and clear the building to protect critical records, equipment, and materials. This effort made way for the first phase of restoration, which is now underway. The City's contractor is actively working to replace damaged drywall, flooring, and ceiling panels, and make any necessary electrical and other repairs.

In the meantime, City staff are available at the City Hall Customer Service Center to assist with utility billing, code enforcement, building and planning services, engineering, and passport appointments. Residents are encouraged to visit the City's website to access services online and schedule appointments as needed. Please note that in-person payments can be made by card, check, or money order. Cash is not currently accepted.

We appreciate the community's continued support during this transitional period. For the latest updates, please visit www.chinohills.org.

Stay Ready, Stay Connected

Taking important steps now can help you protect your home and family during an emergency. Home hardening activities such as clearing leaves and debris from your roof and gutters, trimming plants away from your home, and using ember-resistant vents can help reduce fire risk and improve your property's resilience. Creating defensible space with well-maintained, fire-resistant landscaping and non-combustible zones around your home can go a long way in protecting your property and enhancing neighborhood-wide safety. If an evacuation becomes necessary, leaving early gives you and your loved ones more time to exit and helps first responders focus on their fire-fighting efforts.

Staying connected and informed is key to preparedness! Consider setting up your phone as a Wi-Fi hotspot or investing in a mobile broadband device to maintain internet access during service interruptions. Portable power stations, mobile chargers, car chargers, and solar-powered options can keep your devices running if the power goes out. Identify local facilities with public Wi-Fi and keep a written list of key phone numbers and websites in case your digital access is unavailable. Signing up for emergency alerts and following official city, police, fire, and utility social media accounts are great ways to stay informed.

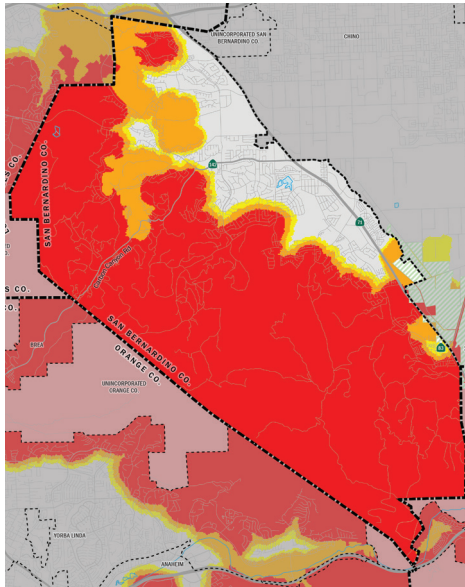

Join us at the City's Emergency Preparedness Workshop on Thursday, September 18 at 6:00 p.m. at the Chino Hills Community Center to learn more about fire safety, evacuation planning, and how you can prepare to stay connected. Visit www.chinohills.org/EmergencyManagement for full event details.

New Fire Hazard Severity Zone Map Takes Effect September 1

From The Chino Valley Fire District

Wildfires are a fact of life in California and the beautiful City of Chino Hills is not immune to this. The City of Chino Hills is a part of a wildland urban interface, which means it is imperative that you have your wildfire preparedness plan. Earlier this year, CAL FIRE released updated fire hazard severity zones (FHSZ) for the entire state. As the agency responsible for fire protection for Chino Hills, Chino Valley Fire District (CVFD) served as the local agency responsible for the adoption of the updated maps. To view the maps and a timeline related to their adoption, please visit chinovalleymfire.org/fire-hazard-severity-zone-map.

Living in a designated fire hazard zone and or a wildland urban interface requires action. During a wildfire, flying embers, direct flame contact and radiant heat can threaten your home. By taking the necessary steps to create and maintain defensible space and by hardening your home, you can help increase your homes' survival. "Ready, Set, Go" is a wildfire preparedness plan that outlines various steps you can take to help protect you, your family, and your property. To download the Ready, Set, Go brochure, use the QR code.

How do I find out what zone my property is located in?

Visit the Chino Valley Fire District website above and follow the link to the Fire Hazard Severity Zone. Once the map is open, select the magnifying glass in the upper lefthand corner and enter your address.

What does it mean if my property is in the very high (red) zone?

If your property is in the newly adopted very high FHSZ, you are legally required by Government Code and CVFD Ordinance 2022-01 to comply with defensible space requirements. In addition, upon sale of the property you are required to comply with the hazard disclosure requirements. For any new construction or additions, it would be required to comply with building standards for the wildland urban interface. You are highly encouraged to create a wildfire preparedness plan for you, your family, and your property.

What does it mean if my property is in the high (orange) zone?

If your property is in the newly adopted high FHSZ, you are legally required by the CVFD Ordinance 2022-01 to comply with defensible space requirements. In addition, upon sale of the property you are required to comply with the hazard disclosure requirements. For any new construction or additions, it would be required to comply with building standards for the wildland urban interface. You are highly encouraged to review and create a wildfire preparedness plan for you, your family and your property.

What does it mean if my property is in the moderate (yellow) zone?

Currently, there are no legal requirements. However, you are highly encouraged to review and create a wildfire preparedness plan, as you can be impacted by wildfire.

If you have specific questions regarding the information outlined in this article, you can contact Chino Valley Fire District at firemarshal@chofire.org.

CITY ADOPTS BUDGET WITH $2.2M DEFICIT

Preserving Essential Services and Maintaining High Quality of Life will Require Use of Reserves

The City of Chino Hills adopted its Fiscal Year (FY) 2025–26 budget at the June 10 City Council Meeting, which includes a $2.2 million General Fund deficit. This year's budget will require the use of General Fund Reserves (the City's savings account) to maintain essential services and preserve the quality of life Chino Hills residents expect. Before drawing on reserves, the City has taken many steps over the last few years to proactively reduce costs wherever possible and maximize available resources. While the City remains financially stable overall, this deficit signifies a need for strategic long-term revenue planning.

City Budget in Brief

For FY 2025-26, the City's total budget across all funds is:

- Total Revenues (All Funds): $147.9 million
- Total Expenditures (All Funds): $150 million

Within all funds, the General Fund budget is:

- Revenues: $56.4 million
- Expenditures: $58.6 million

This means the City's expenses are projected to be $2.2 million more than what the City will bring in through revenue sources. The projected $2.2 million deficit will be covered using General Fund Reserves, or the City's "savings account."

The contract with the San Bernardino County Sheriff's Department for police services makes up 32 percent of the City's General Fund expenses.

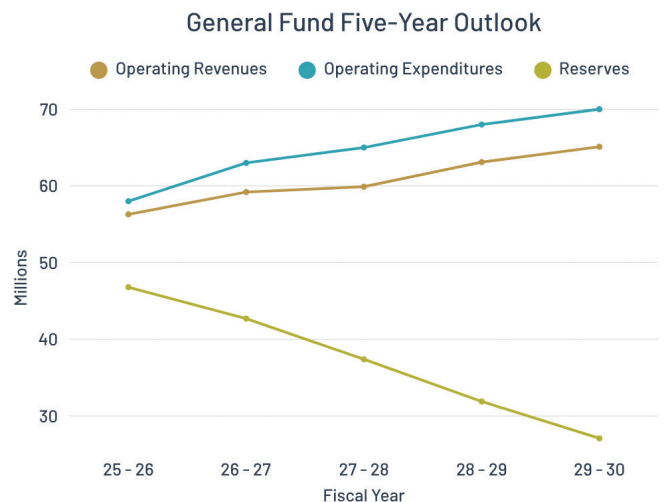

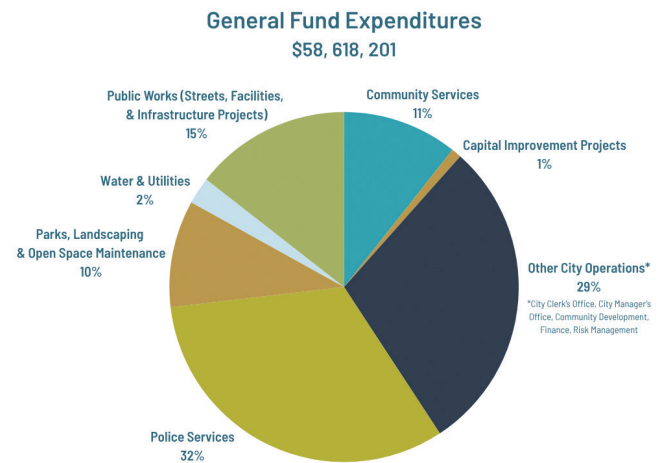

The Importance of the City's General Fund

While most of the City's revenue is restricted and must be spent for specific purposes such as water, sewer, and landscaping, the General Fund is the City's most flexible funding source. It supports many of the daily services and operations residents rely on that help contribute to the City's high quality of life including police services, street maintenance, infrastructure repairs, recreation programs, and special events.

Reserves are like the City's savings account, with money set aside over time as a safety net for emergencies and unexpected or long-term needs. As many residents know, through business or personal experience, using reserves or savings to fund ongoing operating expenditures long-term is not sustainable.

General Fund Reserve Breakdown:

- Current Total Reserves: $46.9 million
- Projected Reserves In 5 Years: $27.1 million
- Unrestricted Reserves Within Total Reserves (Rainy-Day Fund/Savings Account): $34.9 million

What's Driving the Deficit?

This year's deficit is not a result of overspending, it reflects the realities that revenue growth has not kept pace with the needs of a maturing City and growing infrastructure demands. The City's roads, parks, and infrastructure are all aging, and the cost to maintain, and in some cases replace, have outpaced revenue growth.

Key factors include:

- Inflation: Higher costs for materials, contracts, and utilities.
- Declining Sales Tax Revenues: Reduced consumer spending by residents and visitors and lower fuel prices.
- Aging Infrastructure: Roads, parks, and public facilities are all aging and need more repairs and upgrades.
- Wildfire Prevention: Increased investment in weed abatement and fire safety to protect our community and vulnerable hillsides.
- Landscape Maintenance Costs: Costs for maintaining landscaping, parks, trees, and open space continue to grow, especially in areas with deferred maintenance.
- Water and Utility Costs: Increased utility rates for electricity, gas, and the rising cost of irrigation for parks and medians.
- Landscape & Lighting (L&L) District Support: This year, the City must cover a $3.8 million shortfall to sustain neighborhood maintenance. When Proposition 218 passed in November 1996, it took away the authority of local jurisdictions to adjust assessments for L&L funding to keep up with inflation without voter approval.

What Has the City Done to Manage and Cut Costs?

Before drawing on reserves, the City has taken many proactive steps to be more efficient and made careful, deliberate financial decisions to build healthy reserves and stretch every dollar.

This includes:

- Deferring non-essential maintenance and capital improvement projects.
- Securing millions in grant funding to offset costs for public safety, infrastructure, and community enhancement projects.
- Making long-term efficiency investments, which in turn reduce future expenses, such as expanding the recycled water system, installing drought-tolerant landscaping, and installing water systems to reduce reliance on costly imported water.

Looking Ahead

Chino Hills has long been recognized for its conservative financial management, balanced budgets, and commitment to delivering high-quality public services while maintaining strong reserves. As our City grows and our infrastructure ages, so do the financial challenges we face.

While the FY 2025-26 budget will rely on reserves, relying on them to fund an ongoing budget deficit is not a feasible or sustainable approach to maintaining a healthy City organization.

The City remains committed to maintaining the high quality of life for residents, delivering essential services, and protecting reserves for long-term needs and emergencies. As we move forward, there is a clear need to explore options for new, locally controlled sources of revenue and the City will continue to communicate transparently with our residents about the City's budget challenges.

2025 State of the City

Unsung Heroes

During the annual State of the City address in June, the Mayor and City Council each recognized residents selected as “Unsung Heroes.” This tradition began in 2018 to honor individuals who quietly do great things and donate their time for the betterment of the community, without expecting recognition.

Thank you to these remarkable individuals who were honored this year and to every single resident, business owner, volunteer, and commissioner who contribute to our community.

A recording of the 2025 State of the City event is available to watch at www.chinohills.org/SOC.

NEW WASTE MANAGEMENT FEES IN EFFECT

Overage and Contamination Charges Will Now Appear on WM Bills

As of July 1, 2025, Waste Management (WM) has begun charging fees for recycling and organic cart contamination and overfilling in Chino Hills. The contamination changes are part of California's SB 1383 regulations which must be implemented by all cities, and aims to reduce greenhouse gas emissions by improving the way cities collect and process recycling and organic waste.

Here's What You Need to Know

Since January 2024, WM has been monitoring carts using Smart Truck® Technology, which takes photos of recycling and organics carts to identify contamination and overfilled carts. Residents have received educational notices from WM when issues were found, but charges have not been applied.

To comply with State law and ensure clean waste streams, fees are now being assessed after multiple repeat offenses. To help residents adjust, notices received before July 1, 2025, do not count toward future enforcement. Only incidents on or after July 1 are included in enforcement.

What is Contamination and Overfilling?

Contamination occurs when items are placed in the wrong cart, such as plastic bags or food-soiled paper in the recycling cart, and plastic or compostable bags in the organics cart.

Overfilling occurs when the lid cannot close completely due to excess materials or items that are too large.

How the Enforcement Process Works

WM is implementing the enforcement process below to help educate residents and impose charges starting from six (6) months from the date of the first incident:

First and Second Incidents:

- Carts are serviced.
- A notification letter (or emails, if preferred) is sent with photo evidence.
- No fees are charged.

Subsequent Incidents (Third incident and beyond within six months):

- Carts are serviced.
- A notification letter (or emails, if preferred) is sent with photo evidence.
- Fees are assessed:
 - Contamination Fee: $28.08 per incident
 - Overage Fee: $16.85 per incident

Proper sorting of waste and keeping lids closed ensures that recycling and organic materials can be successfully processed or composted. Thank you for your cooperation as we work to keep the streets clean and collection routes safe!

If you believe you have received a notice in error or have questions on fees or the above process, please contact WM Customer Service at (800) 423-9986.

E-Bike and Motorized Scooter Safety

As students and families gear up for a new school year, now is the perfect time to brush up on safety tips and local regulations. In January 2025, a new City ordinance took effect that prohibits riding electric bikes (e-bike) and motorized scooters on sidewalks, trails, and in City-owned parks and open spaces. This includes areas near schools and the Chino Hills Government Center.

To stay safe and avoid fines, please remember:

- Use caution when riding in bike lanes or streets, obey all traffic laws, and do not swerve between lanes or vehicles.
- Yield to pedestrians, especially near schools and crosswalks.
- Inspect your brakes, tire pressure, and battery charge before use.
- Wear a helmet (required for riders under 18).

To learn more about the ordinance, the difference between e-bikes and other wheeled toys, and much more, visit www.chinohills.org/EBike.

New Mobile Recreation Vehicle

The new City of Chino Hills Mobile Recreation vehicle is now visiting neighborhoods! This free after-school program brings games, crafts, and much more to various parks throughout Chino Hills. Special thanks to San Bernardino County Supervisor Curt Hagman for his generous $100,000 donation and to the Chino Hills Community Foundation for contributing $50,000. To learn more about the Mobile Recreation program, visit www.chinohills.org/MobileRec.

SaveStation at Community Park

The City's second SaveStation was installed at Community Park near fields five and six to improve access to lifesaving emergency equipment. SaveStations house automated external defibrillators (AEDs) and are accessible 24/7. This station supplements the existing AED machine already located in the staff office. Like the first tower that was installed at Grand Avenue Park, this second SaveStation was donated by the Chino Valley Fire Foundation and the Chino Hills Community Foundation.

Highlighted Volunteer

Dan Hostetler

Dan Hostetler has been selected as the City's Highlighted Volunteer for his dedicated service as a tour guide during the Tres Hermanos Ranch public tours conducted by the Cities of Chino Hills, Diamond Bar, and Industry through the Tres Hermanos Conservation Authority. As a professor in the College of Agriculture at California State Polytechnic University Pomona, Dan taught courses on range management and irrigated pastures for various livestock and used the Tres Hermanos Ranch as a location for students to learn. Over the course of his 42-year career, Dan developed extensive knowledge of the historic property, making him an invaluable resource and guide during the tours.

When asked what he enjoys most about volunteering, Dan said that, like his students, he appreciates escaping the urban environment and immersing himself in natural spaces like Tres Hermanos. Outside of volunteering, Dan tends to his backyard farm, restores classic cars and boats, and enjoys life with his wife of 47 years, Melinda. Together they have three sons, five grandchildren, and their beloved Basset Hound, Daisy.

Thank You, Volunteers!

Each year, the City of Chino Hills welcomes enthusiastic teens in grades 9 through 11 who want to volunteer their time supporting a variety of the City's summer recreation programs. These "Volunteens" gain hands on experience, build leadership skills, and make a meaningful difference in the community. At the end of each summer, each Volunteer is recognized with a certificate of appreciation, a letter of recommendation, and acknowledgement at a City Parks & Recreation Commission meeting.

This summer, 49 Volunteens jumped right in to volunteer at swim classes, organize crafts and group games at Day Camp, or bring energy and a fun attitude to Mobile Recreation. Each year, the dedication of our Volunteers helps to ensure that our programs run smoothly and the City creates memorable summer experiences for all who participate.

We extend our heartfelt thanks to each Volunteer, our Highlighted Volunteer, and the many incredible volunteers who give their time and energy to contribute hours of service to our community. Their selfless efforts and unwavering commitment make a significant impact in enhancing the quality of life for Chino Hills residents. Thank you for helping make our community a better place!

1,2,3-TCP Water Treatment Facility on Eucalyptus Avenue Nears Completion

The City of Chino Hills is nearing completion of the new 1,2,3-TCP Water Treatment Facility! The project was developed in response to the State Water Resources Control Board lowering the maximum level of 1,2,3-Trichloropropane (1,2,3-TCP) found in groundwater for all cities throughout California.

Construction reached substantial completion in June 2025 and is expected to be operational by December 2025. The delay is due to the state requiring an additional metering station to be constructed for blending water in the distribution system with well water. To learn more visit www.chinohills.org/123TCP.
